Several days more to go and everyone would be celebrating the Christmas Season! One thing that the Philippines is known for is that it is one country whose citizens truly know how to enjoy and celebrate Christmas. So just like with many Filipinos, now is the time to decorate your home at Oasis Subdivision and prepare the whole family for the most awaited holiday of the year!

Parol

Make sure that you hang a Parol, which is the Light that guides us all. This symbolizes the guiding star that directed the wise men to the manger where Jesus was humbly born. Christmas can never be without this exquisite decor.

Christmas Tree

Probably one of the most prevalent Christmas décor in a home, the Christmas tree will always be prominent in the living room. There are various colors of Christmas trees available, and it will always be up to your preference what color you would prefer. The classic colors include green and white, although the most commonly used is the former. At present however, there are red and blue trees that are available. These are all commercially produced trees. In some countries like the U.S., they actually make use of real pine trees. They would even make sure that they will have the tallest and most beautiful tree in their homes!

Here in the Philippines, since pine trees aren't that abundant, then we have to contend ourselves with plastic Christmas trees. The most important thing is that, the whole family is present and will be gathered around the tree on Christmas Day.
